

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

HISTORICAL SKETCH OF
THE SAINT ANDREW'S SOCIETY OF PHILADELPHIA

The love of home and kindred has always and everywhere been held to distinguish man from the brute—the civilized and educated man from the wandering savage—and to the honor of our compatriots nowhere has burned more brightly the sacred flame than in the hearts of Scotland's children. No distance, no remoteness in time or place from the ancestral home extinguishes it, and though many a weary league of land and sea, or numerous generations may separate them from the “Land of brown heath and shaggy wood, Land of the mountain and the flood,” and though poverty, or affliction, or other circumstances may prevent their ever treading the sacred soil of their fatherland, still longingly they gaze far over the seas to the ancient hills and lovingly remember their brethren at home and abroad.

When Philadelphia was settled many a Scotchman was gradually attracted to the new country, and, as Scotchmen always do, they soon rose to positions of honor and profit in the various departments of life.

But the old love of home and kindred animated them, and while our city, now so large and populous, was but like a babe in its swaddling clothes, and Third Street was the western boundary of its built-up part, in December, 1749, certain Scotchmen, honor to their memory, met and adopted the following

Rules for The St. Andrew's Society

ADVERTISEMENT

That peculiar benevolence of mind which shews itself by charitable actions in giving Relief to the poor and distress'd, has been always justly esteem'd one of the first-rate moral Virtues. Any Persons then who form themselves into a Society with this Intention must certainly meet with the Approbation of every candid and generous mind, and we hope it will plainly appear by the Rules which are to follow that The St. Andrew's Society, of Philadelphia, was Solely Instituted with that view. But as the Charities of this Society are to be somewhat confin'd, it may not be amiss, briefly, to mention the reasons by way of Apology for it.

The design of Society in general is undoubtedly universal Good, yet as it is impossible that all Mankind can be join'd in one Society, bodies of men have separated themselves into distinct Societies, which are call'd Nations. Now all the Publick Acts of these National Societies either are or ought to be calculated principally to promote the particular happyness and welfare of that Nation where they are made. In Nations again for a reason of the very same kind men form themselves into Corporations and other Societies for promoting some particular Good which either had not or could not be so well provided for by the Publick acts of the Community. On this Account we are humbly of Opinion it will never be reckon'd a good Objection against any private Society that the ends propos'd by it are not General but confin'd to particulars under certain Circumstances: Provided always that nothing can be aim'd at by any such private Society inconsistent with the Public Good.

Now to apply this to the present purpose We who are Natives of that Part of Great Britain call'd Scotland and reside in the City of Philadelphia meeting frequently with our Country people here in distress who generally make application to some one or other of us for relief have agreed to form ourselves into a Society in order to provide for these Indigents whereby they may be more easily more regularly and more bountifully Supply'd than cou'd well be done in the common troublesome way of making Occasional collections for such purposes. As we propos'd to restrict the Charities of our Society to our Indigent Country Folks alone so it was our original intention to admit none but Scotsmen born into the Society and to apply to or receive contributions from none else. But upon considering that many descended of Scots Parents might be both able and willing to contribute towards a Charitable design of this Nature whereby their own Kinsmen from Scotland might some time or other be reliev'd in time of want and Necessity we judg'd upon mature deliberation that it wou'd be wrong to exclude them from joining with us. For this reason, we concluded to leave an opening for the Admission of such of them as shall be so dispos'd. At the same time we have endeavour'd to preserve a fair and just Ballance betwixt those from whom the Money is to be Collected and those to whose relief it is to be apply'd, so that as far as the original design of this Society will permit all who have any connection with the Contributors are intitl'd to the Charity of it. Others its true are not. Yet if by our Rules all others besides Scotsmen born, the sons of Scotsmen who may be members of this Society, or the Widows and Children of the Members are excluded from the benefit of it let it be likewise Consider'd that the same Rules limit the Contributions Agreeable to this So that we hope there is not the least room left for reflections of partiality. No injustice is done to any private man since if he contributes himself or Friends may reap an advantage and it can never be pretended that the Public can sustain any Injury Seeing on the contrary it may be the means frequently of saving the money allotted by the Public for Charitable Uses but cannot possibly interfere with any Public utility whatever.

Thus it appears that the design of this Society is fair equitable and Innocent and to convince the World that it is so we thought it proper to take this method of making Public our Rules.

Upon the whole we are sensible there are Societies of the same Denominations in other places of a more General and extensive Nature both as to Collecting and applying the Charities collected, and indeed it is but right if they are so in the one they ought to be so in the other.

But it is our Opinion for reasons which appear to us good Ones that the St. Andrew's Society in this place shou'd be constituted agreeable to the above Plan and accordingly have unanimously Voted and Agreed to the following Rules for the Better management and Improvement of the same.

Thus run the first articles of Association—reproduced in the original spelling, capitalizing, and contractions, as the same stand recorded in the early pages of the first Minute Book of the Society.

On the succeeding page are, in apparently their own handwriting, the following names. The page is torn so that some of the names cannot be read, but the wanting part has been supplied from other data, the supplied part being inclosed in a parenthesis.

The above were the original members.

On the 15 Decr 1749 the first application for Relief was made by one Alex^r Ross who represented himself in a Petition copied verbatim into the Minute Book as a Surgeon from Gallowayshire, Scotland, as having been captured by the French and Spanish some 5 or 6 times within three years, as having escaped from a Spanish prison and as now confined in the Prison at Philada. for debt. For his relief 40s. were given.

The old minute-book is largely taken up with petitions for relief, many of which are very curious but generally too long for insertion here. A few gleanings may be admitted.

1750, Aug. 27. £5. 9s. were paid for a "strong box" for the Society. This box is now in the possession of the Society and is simply a large wooden box, which any of the accomplished "cracksmen" of the present day would open in two minutes.

1750, Aug. 31. The following petition was read and is here inserted as a curiosity of the "good old times."

"About 18 years ago Janet Clealand on the earnest entreaties of her uncle John Gibbs late of Maryland deceased was prevailed on to make over a small patrimony which she had in Scotland to the said Gibbs' Brother as also quit her native country and attend her said uncle to Maryland relying on his solemn promise of being there handsomely supported by him during his life and having a considerable share of estate after his death—said Janet continued to live with and faithfully serve her said uncle as his housekeeper from her first arrival in Maryland until his death except at some particular times when bad counsel joined to his unhappy temper made him drive her from him for some days until cool reflection took place—he then always expressed a concern for treating her in that manner—she returned to serve him as usual for the truth of which as also of his frequent declarations that he brought her from Scotland on purpose to make her his Heiress, she can appeal to several gentlemen now living in Maryland. Some years before his death he was afflicted with sickness and made his will and thereby devised and bequeathed all he should die possessed of (saving debts and few legacies) to the said Janet. Dr. Wells the Physician who attended him at that time is now living and can prove this assertion as also several declarations of her uncles in her favor. In 1747 Mr. Gibbs died of an ulcer in his head and during his miserable sickness (which from the beginning deprived him of his reason as Dr. Williams who attended him has testified) his (the said Gibbs') negroes and their associates would in the Doctor's absence and in spight of the said Janet's endeavors to prevent it frequently give him large quantities of rum which added greatly to his disorder. In this condition he was prevailed on to make another will whereby he cuts the said Janet and all his other relations entirely off, sets all his negroes free and leaves them all he died possessed of except his plate and a few legacies which he thereby gives to strangers by virtue of which will the negroes and their associates have got possession of all her the said Janet's uncle died possessed of &c and she is now left entirely destitute as well of money to procure herself justice as of the means of supporting herself which her age and infirmities now render incapable of—"

The Society voted her £7. to carry on her lawsuit and recommended the members to give all the assistance they could, but subsequent entries show that the unfortunate Janet lost her suit entirely.

At the same meeting :—William Biddle notifies the Society that he intends to be a candidate for sheriff, but thinks a "particular application due to Gentlemen of so much influence as those that compose this Honorable Society"—

1751, July 22. A letter of thanks was sent to Messrs. Innes & Clark of London for the present of a seal to the Society, 1751, Nov. 30. The Rules of the Society underwent considerable amendments, and on the same day it was ordered that the future meetings should be at the Assembly room on Mr. Hamilton's wharf (many members objecting to a public tavern), and a committee was appointed to procure wine and other necessities for their accommodation.

1752, Feb. 7. Mary Stark presents a petition stating that she was born in Glasgow of reputable parents, but seduced and decoyed thence to America at the age of nine years, and was in want—50s. allowed. At the same time four gentlemen were fined 40s. each for refusing to serve as Secretary.

1753, Aug. 31. Dr. Thompson and John Inglis were directed to provide a dinner for the Society at the next Anniversary—"the dinner not to exceed 5 shillings a man for eating to be on the table by 2 o'clock in the afternoon—the bill to be brought in and deliver'd to the Secretary by five o'clock afternoon."

1755, April 23. Eight pounds were paid to John Sibbald for a quarter cask of Madeira.

1755, May 31. The following entry occurs :

"A dispute arising whether the members present that came after seven o'clock (six being the hour appointed for meeting) shall be fined or no.—The Vice President summed up what was said on the occasion and put it to the Vote of the Company who were almost unanimous they ought to be excused the fine. Note—they were all absent except the clerk."

1757, Feb. 29. (How this date occurs is not explained.) Dr. MacCleane is stated to be charged with a crime of a very atrocious nature and is therefore forbidden the meetings.

1758, Feb. 28. £100 were ordered to be put out at interest.

1764, May 31. The Society being in straits, petitions for charity being rejected "because no money;" the Treasurer and Mr. Charles Stedman are ordered to collect the dues.

1765, Nov. 30. Complaints were made as to extravagances, and the officers were directed thereafter to provide a cold supper for 10 or 12 persons, reckoning to be called at 11 o'clock and clubbed by the members present. No liquor to be brought in except on the officers' orders.

1776, Aug. 31. The following entry occurs :

"The Sec'y advertised according to custom but the President and Vice President judg'd proper to put off this meeting owing to a number of the members being out of town or more particularly on account of the convulsed and unsettled state of the times.

"Mr. Lee was order'd not to provide for the Company and the subscriber deems it necessary to make this memorandum he having done his duty.

" ANEAS URQUHART."

1776, Nov. 30. Seven members were present. The old officers were continued and all petitions for relief were referred to the old Committee, and the company adjourned without supping, having first made a compensation to Mr. Lee for his trouble in preparing to entertain them.

The Society seems to have had at different times various places of meeting, among which may be named Mr. Bunn's tavern, Fleece tavern, Ton tavern, Bunch of Grapes, Masonic Lodge, and Mr. Hamilton's wharf.

Thus ends the old minute-book. The next one in the possession of the Society commences November 30, 1786.

Before passing on to notice anything of interest therein contained, as a matter of curiosity at the present day, some old bills for supplies, which have fortunately been preserved, are here reproduced.

1789, Nov. 30. An invitation to the dinner of the St. George's Society, and that our officers were directed to return the compliment.

1790, May 31. "The enormity" of the expense of the Anniversary dinner is objected to and ordered thereafter not to exceed 10 shillings each.

1793, Feb. 28. The Treasurer reported that he had purchased $1012.29 of the deferred debt of the United States at the rate of 12 shillings 6 pence to the pound.

1793, May 31. Wm. M. Smith and Richard Lake were elected Counsellors, apparently the first time such officers were chosen.

1797, Dec. 1. The Anniversary dinner was held to-day. November 30 being "Fast Day" among the Presbyterians. As most of our members belonged to that denomination they doubtless played a better knife and fork on account of the abstinence of the previous day.

1799, Nov. 21. The officers of the German and Welsh Societies were directed to be invited to the Annual dinner.

1801, Dec. 23. The expenses of the Annual dinner over the money received therefor were directed to be paid by the officers ordering the same.

1805, Nov. 21. It was directed that the dinners should be furnished at $3 per head, which it was hoped would be sufficient until ten o'clock, the members who remained paying the bill after that hour. This was afterwards reported as not practicable.

1807, Nov. 30. A Committee was appointed to inquire whether a Charter had ever been procured, which Committee at the next meeting reported that no traces of any Charter could be found.

1808, Dec. 3. A Committee reports that the whole property of the Society consisted of a Certificate for $1012.29 of the deferred debt, and $277.99 in the Treasurer's hands.

1809, Feb. 28. Notice was given that a Charter of Incorporation had been drawn up, passed and enrolled. (See Appendix No. 1.)

1809, Dec. 4. $100 were directed to be invested.

1810, Feb. 28. The subject of building a Hall for the Society was broached, but it was afterwards laid aside as being beyond their means.

At the same meeting all fines incurred before being incorporated were cancelled, but with the usual Scottish prudence it was provided that any member desiring to pay his fines should be permitted to do so.

1811, Nov. 23. Members were authorized to invite any respectable Scotch friend to the Annual dinner.

1812, Feb. 29. The charities of the previous year reported as $223.

This same year the custom seems to have arisen of holding a meeting one month before the anniversary, to make preparations for the dinner.

1815, Feb. 28. Investments of the Society reported to be $2436.84.

1816, Nov. 30. "The King of Great Britain" was ordered to be a standing toast at the annual dinners during the continuance of peace between the United States and Great Britain.

1816, Dec. 9. Two shares of Philadelphia Bank stock were directed to be bought.

1819, Dec. 7. Reported that applicants for charity are guilty of going to different Assistants and getting more than is right. And the Assistants were divided into pairs for each month.

1825, Feb. 28. Assets reported at $2880.35.

1829, Aug. 31. Steps are directed to be taken to secure a legacy of $1000 left to the Society by Mr. McKenzie.

1833, Feb. 28. Assets reported, $4045.24.

With the entry of Nov. 14, 1833, this minute-book ends.

The next minute-book in the possession of the Society is the one opened by the present Secretary, October 31, 1864.

Continuing the chronological jottings as before :

1865, April 20. At a special meeting the Society adopted resolutions expressing their abhorrence of the murder of President Lincoln, and agreed to attend his funeral procession in a body.

1866, Feb. 28. $1000 City of Pittsburg Bond was presented to the Society by Mr. Charles Macalester, their President, the interest of which he directed should be applied towards defraying the expenses of the Quarterly suppers.

1868, Feb. 29. A Committee was appointed to report what minutes of the Society were in its possession. The Committee, on May 30, 1868, reported the two minute-books heretofore mentioned, and the former Secretary was directed to hunt up the missing minutes, and to write up the minutes kept by himself as Secretary, which it was stated he had in his possession in manuscript. On May 31, 1869, the Committee reported that the minute-book from 1834 to 1840 or 1842 had been placed by the Secretary in a fire-proof safe in the office of Mr. Ewing, and was believed to have been stolen therefrom, but search was making therefor, and the loose minutes from 1840 or 1842 to 1864 were being collated and arranged by the Secretary, who had kept them. August 31, 1869, the Committee were directed to apply for the loose minutes and arrange them. February 28, 1870, reported that a large bundle of loose papers had been handed over by the former Secretary. On examination many had proved worthless, and it was probably impossible to engross them systematically. They were subsequently very carefully collated and arranged and a number of minutes of meetings, from November, 1844, to February, 1862, recovered and written in a proper volume.

1870, May 31. Subscriptions of $870 to the Supper Fund reported, and that the same had been invested at interest.

1870, Aug. 31. Reported that the President, Mr. Macalester, after the adjournment of the last meeting, offered to give $1000 more to the Supper Fund if the members would subscribe $2000 additional, and that nearly $1000 had already been paid in, and at subsequent meetings the payment of the whole amount needed and the receipt from Mr. Macalester of his subscription were reported.

1870. Draft of new Charter submitted and adopted. Amended May 31, 1871, and on February 29, 1872, it was reported that the same had been granted by the Court. (See Appendix.)

1871, Feb. 28. Investments of the Society reported as follows:

General Fund	} at par,	$5720,
Supper Fund		3100,

and in August following, the Supper Fund had been made up to $5100 in investments at par values.

1872, May 31. By-Laws reported and adopted. These have since been slightly amended, and, together with the new Charter, will be found in the Appendix.

1874, Feb. 28. A legacy of $1000 to the Society from their late President, Charles Macalester, was reported.

1874, Oct. 31. A Committee was appointed to consult with the other Scotch Societies upon the subject of a monument to Walter Scott in Fairmount Park.

1875, May 31. Committee reported an arrangement with The Union Benevolent Society to distribute all charities. This was not found to work well in practice and was discontinued after a short trial.

At the same meeting a subscription list was started to help in the erection of a monument to John Witherspoon, D. D., a signer of the Declaration of Independence and a member of this Society.

The monument was subsequently erected, and St. Andrew's was represented at the opening ceremonies.

1880, Nov. 1. The strong box was ordered to be refitted, painted and put in order, and deposited in The Fidelity Trust Company, with our books and papers.

The minutes since this date contain nothing of particular interest. They show the usual changes : Old members dying or resigning ; new members coming in, and the work of the Society being steadily pursued. While we have to lament the loss of our minutes for thirty busy years, in which the Society was growing stronger in influence, character, and resources, we have still the files of the newspapers of the day, which show that the Society was flourishing, busy in good works, and with laudable regularity promoting mutual acquaintance and friendship by its annually recurring Commemoration dinner.

At no time has its roll of active resident members been larger or its resources as ample as now, and we fondly indulge the hope that each succeeding year may bear witness to a steady, healthy growth, and that it may endure forever.

The principal relic in the Society's possession is the sword of General Hugh Mercer, who was killed in the battle of Trenton during the Revolution. At the time of the dedication of the Mercer Monument at Laurel Hill Cemetery our Society occupied a place of honor, and was mainly instrumental in causing the same to be erected.

This sword is now deposited with The Historical Society of Pennsylvania, but its ownership remains in St. Andrew's, and it is at all times subject to its order.

The finances of the Society show a healthy growth. Notwithstanding some losses from improvident investments, the capital funds are now as follows :

General Fund	}	at par,	$18,545.88
Supper Fund			6,949.71

Five members of this society were signers of the Declaration of Independence, viz : James Wilson, John Witherspoon, D. D., Thomas McKean, afterward Governor of Pennsylvania, Philip Livingston, George Ross.

One of the signers of the Constitution of the United States, the Hon. Alexander Hamilton, was an Honorary Member.

ARTICLE VI. In the absence of the President, one of the Vice-Presidents shall perform the duties assigned to him. It shall likewise be the duty of the Vice-Presidents, or one of them, to sign all orders on the Treasurer for the payment of money agreeably to the votes and resolution of the Society or of the Assistants, and no moneys paid otherwise than upon the orders of the Vice-Presidents, or one of them, drawn as afore-said, shall be allowed to the Treasurer in the settlement of his accounts.

ARTICLE VII. The Treasurer shall have the custody of the Society's strong-box, their seal, their cash, their certificates, and other evidences of property, their books of account, and such other books and effects as may be ordered to be deposited therein. He shall produce the said box, with the cash, papers and other effects deposited or ordered to be deposited therein, for inspection and examination by the Society, or by such committee as they shall appoint for the purpose; and shall deliver the same to the succeeding Treasurer upon notice of his being duly elected, and giving the security hereinafter directed. At each anniversary meeting, or at such other time as shall for that purpose be appointed, the Treasurer shall produce such books and accounts for the inspection and examination of the Society, or of such committee as shall be appointed for that purpose. He shall pay out of the moneys of the Society in his possession all such orders as shall be directed to him under the hand of the Vice-Presidents, or either of them, in pursuance of the votes and resolutions of the Society, or of the Assistants, or any two of them, but no others. Each Treasurer, before he enters upon his office, shall give Bond (with surety) to the Society in double the amount of the property, and evidences of property to be delivered into his possession and conditioned for his faithfully and diligently collecting, receiving, and keeping all moneys and other property and evidences of property belonging or payable to the Society; for the faithful and punctual payment of all orders regularly drawn on him; for the true and faithful delivery to his successor, on demand, of the strong-box, and of the books of account, cash certificates, and other papers and property, or evidences of property whatever, and in all other respects well and faithfully to perform and fulfil the trusts and duties of Treasurer agreeably to the provisions of this instrument and the by-laws of the Society until a successor shall be duly elected and qualified to fill the office of Treasurer, which Bond shall be deposited in the hands of the President of the Society for safe keeping.

ARTICLE VIII. The Secretary shall have the custody of the book of minutes of the Society, and shall therein record all the votes, resolutions, and other transactions of the Society. and immediately after the adjournment of the Society shall deliver a correct list of delinquents to the Treasurer, noting those who appeared and took their seats after roll-call, and requested a note to be made of such their appearance. At the opening of every meeting of the Society, whether stated or special, the minutes of the proceedings of the former meeting shall be read by the Secretary, at which time, but not afterwards, corrections may be made by the Society.

ARTICLE IX. The Chaplain shall perform the religious duties customary at the meetings of the Society, and shall by his counsel and advice promote harmony and good-will among the members. He shall also visit such sick and distressed persons as may be recommended to his attention by the Assistants, or any two of them.

ARTICLE X. It shall be the duty of the Counsellors, upon the call of the President, Vice-Presidents, or any two of the Assistants of the Society, to give opinions and advice upon any questions of law in which the Society shall be interested, or any other persons in whose behalf the Society shall interfere, and make such call; and shall render such other legal assistance as shall be necessary in any of the cases aforementioned.

ARTICLE XI. The Physicians shall render such medical advice and relief to persons the objects of the charity of the Society, as shall be pointed out to them by the Assistants, or any two of them.

ARTICLE XII. The six Assistants shall be a standing committee of the Society, whose duty it shall be to pay attention to emigrants from Scotland, to inquire into their treatment during the passage, and into their circumstances and views; to assist them by their advice, and to recommend such of them as they may think proper to the Society for pecuniary relief. It shall also be their duty to consider such applications as may be made for Charity between the stated meetings. They shall have power to bestow out of the funds of the Society such relief as they may think absolutely necessary to poor persons whom they may judge to be objects of the Society's bounty, being natives of Scotland, their widows and children, or being the widows, children, or grandchildren of members of the Society. But the said Assistants shall not exceed the sum of twenty dollars in their donations to any one person, nor the sum of one hundred dollars in the whole in the advancements to be made by them between any two stated meetings of the Society, unless by the order or permission of a stated meeting of the Society or by a special meeting to be called for that purpose, and to consist of at least seven members; which advances shall be made by orders drawn on the Treasurer by at least two members of the said Committee of Assistants and not otherwise. Provided, That no person shall be entitled to charity or relief from this Society who by any settlement or residence shall be at the same time entitled to support or relief from any city, county, borough, township, hundred, parish, or place within the United States, unless in cases of urgent and extraordinary distress, and when it may be necessary for the person applying to remove from this city to some other place, in which case a meeting of the officers and Assistants of the Society shall be called to determine upon the relief to be given.

ARTICLE XIII. If any officer shall happen to die or to remove from this State during the time for which he shall have been elected, his place may be supplied by an election made at the next stated meeting of the Society in the form above mentioned.

ARTICLE XIV. If any member, being duly elected an officer, shall refuse to serve, another shall be chosen to supply his place at the next stated meeting of the Society in the form above mentioned.

ARTICLE XV. In admitting members into the Society the following form shall be observed. A member of the Society shall name the person proposed to be admitted, and shall at the same time state to the Society that he knows or has good grounds for the belief (stating at the same time those grounds) that the person proposed is within the qualifications expressed in the third article of this Charter: whereupon the Secretary shall enter the nomination on the minutes of the Society. At the next stated meeting, at the request and motion of the person nominating, or of some person by him authorized, they shall proceed to ballot for the person proposed as member, and if upon such ballot it shall appear that two-thirds of the resident members present are in favor of his admission, he shall be admitted as a member, and upon payment of not less than five dollars to the Treasurer, if a resident member, or, if elected as an honorary member on payment of any sum not less than ten dollars, he shall be entitled to the rights and privileges of a member of the Society.

ARTICLE XVI. The stated meetings of the Society shall be four times every year, at some convenient house in the city of Philadelphia, viz., on St. Andrew's day (which shall be the anniversary), and on the last days of February, May, and August; but if either of those days should be Sunday the meeting shall be holden on the day next ensuing; five resident members shall constitute a quorum for transacting the business of the Society, and upon a quorum being formed at any stated meeting, a majority of the members present shall have authority to ordain and establish such by-laws, rules, and ordinances relative to the affairs of the Society as they may deem proper, and to alter or abolish the same at their pleasure; subject, however, to the provisions contained in the first article of this instrument. Any officer who shall be absent from a stated meeting shall pay to the Treasurer for the use of the Society fifty cents, and any other resident member who shall have been regularly admitted and shall be absent shall pay a fine in like manner of twenty-five cents. But if any officer or member shall appear after roll-call and desire his appearance to be noted, he shall be fined one-half the sums above named respectively.

ARTICLE XVII. Each member of the Society besides the sum paid on admission shall make a contribution of three dollars annually, to be paid to the Treasurer at the anniversary meeting, and to be appropriated as above mentioned to charitable uses. The funds arising from fines imposed on the members may be applied towards the defraying of the necessary expenses incurred and occasioned by visits from strangers and officers of other charitable societies at the anniversary meetings of this Society and other necessary expenses of the Society. But the sums payable on admission, the annual contributions, and the surplus of fines which shall appear upon the annual settlement of the Treasurer's accounts, shall be applied exclusively to the relief of distressed persons and to the establishing funds for affording such relief; and any surplus funds of the Society that may remain in the Treasurer's hands on the settlement of his accounts at each anniversary meeting, or such part thereof as a majority of the members present at such anniversary meeting may direct, a quorum being duly formed as aforesaid, shall by him be invested in some Stock, bearing an interest or yielding a dividend, or put out at Interest on landed Security, in such manner as may be directed by a majority of the members present; subject, however, to the provision contained in the Second Article of this instrument.

ARTICLE XVIII. At all meetings of the Society the President, or in his absence the Senior Vice-President, or in his absence the other Vice-President, or in his absence a member chosen President for one time, shall take the chair, half an hour after the time appointed for the meeting of the Society. Whereupon the roll shall be immediately called by the Secretary, the minutes of the former meeting read, and the Society proceed to business if a quorum shall be found; whilst the meeting is organized no business shall be discussed or brought into the view of the Society but what shall relate to the objects of its institution. Every member speaking shall address himself to the chair ; when the debate is closed the presiding officer shall put the question which (unless when otherwise particularly directed) shall be decided by a majority of voices present.

ARTICLE XIX. Upon a demand made by the Treasurer upon any member personally for a fine or annual contribution, if such member shall refuse or neglect to pay the same, it shall be the duty of the Treasurer to report such refusal or neglect to the next stated meeting of the Society. Whereupon the Society shall direct the Secretary to deliver a written notice to such member personally that he is reported delinquent, and that unless he make payment or assign a sufficient reason to the Society at their next stated meeting why he does not, he will be liable to be expelled by a vote of the Society from his membership and lose all rights thereto attached ; and if such member shall still neglect or refuse to pay or to assign a satisfactory excuse for not paying, the Society may, at the next anniversary meeting, or at any subsequent stated meeting whilst such member continues delinquent, by a vote of two-thirds of the members present expel such delinquent ; which vote of expulsion shall be entered on the minutes, and a certified copy thereof served on the expelled member by the Secretary ; and such member shall thereupon be considered as absolutely expelled and no longer a member of the Society, nor entitled to any participation in its property, rights, or privileges.

They shall be elected annually by ballot at the October meeting, and shall hold office for the term of one year from the Thirtieth day of November of the year of their election; and if from any cause there should fail to be an election at the proper time, the officers then in office shall hold their respective places until their successors shall be duly chosen at a subsequent meeting.

At all elections for officers the candidates elected must have a majority of the whole number of votes cast.

In case any of the offices becoming vacant by death, resignation, or otherwise, during the current term, the vacancy shall be filled by election by ballot at the next stated meeting, or at a special meeting called for the purpose.

The order of business and the number necessary to form a quorum shall be prescribed by the By-Laws.

The President or either of the Vice-Presidents at any time may, and shall at the request of three members in writing, call a special meeting of the Society.

ARTICLE VI

OF BY-LAWS

The Society shall have power to make all needful By-Laws for the regulation of its affairs not contravening this Charter, or the Constitution and Laws of the United States of America, or of the State of Pennsylvania.

NOTE.—Discussions arose in the Society as to the exact meaning of the first sentence in Article III of the foregoing Charter, and at the meeting held September 1, 1884, it was agreed that the words "who shall be the descendants of persons born in Scotland," ought to be construed as meaning only descendants born in the United States of Scottish ancestry.

APPENDIX NO. III

BY-LAWS

ARTICLE I

OF THE OFFICERS

SECTION 1. The President shall punctually at the hour for meeting take the chair at all meetings of the Society, and conduct its business in the order prescribed in Article III, Section 2.

He shall keep proper order, decide all points of order, subject to appeal, and shall in case of a tie vote on any subject have the privilege of voting, but in no other case; should he refuse to so vote the motion shall be lost.

He shall appoint all committees unless otherwise ordered, of which committees the first-named person shall be chairman, and shall himself be ex-officio a member thereof unless otherwise determined by the Society.

SECTION 2. The Vice-Presidents shall, in order of seniority in office, perform the duties of the President in his absence, and in the same order succeed to his place in case of his death or resignation, until his successor be duly chosen. When there shall exist a vacancy in the office of both Vice-Presidents of the Society, and both are to be elected, the one having the highest number of votes shall be the Senior Vice-President, and in case both have the same number of votes the two gentlemen elected shall draw lots for the seniority.

SECTION 3. The Treasurer shall have the custody of the moneys and securities and other valuables of the Society. He shall collect all moneys due the Society, and pay all orders lawfully drawn upon him by the Assistants, and all moneys which, by any vote of the Society certified to him by the Secretary, he may be directed to do, and all bills which he may know to be correct and proper, and which may be presented for payment more than fifteen days preceding the next stated meeting of the Society. He shall keep a proper cash-book, a proper ledger account with each member, a ledger account of each security, and of each special fund, and shall make a written report at every stated meeting showing his receipts and disbursements in detail since his last report. He shall at every February meeting report what members are in arrears for initiation fee for one year or for dues two years, and at every meeting all fines incurred by officers pursuant to Section 9 of this Article. He shall further give proper notice previous to the February meeting to any member who may be in danger of being dropped for unpaid dues, that at said meeting he will cease to be a member unless said dues are paid, and shall notify all members stricken from the roll for this cause of the fact thereof. He may be required to give satisfactory security for the due performance of his duties.

SECTION 4. The Secretary shall keep in a proper book fair and correct minutes of all proceedings of the Society, and shall produce such book and read such minutes at every stated meeting of the Society. He shall give written or printed notice of election to every new member elected, and to every officer not present at the time of election, and a similar notice by post to every member in the city of Philadelphia of the time and place of the stated meetings in February, May, August and October; and of every adjourned and special meeting, unless prevented by shortness of time. Each notice of a stated meeting shall contain the names and residences of candidates for membership and the names of the proposers.

He shall notify the Treasurer of the name and address of each new member elected, and the chairman of each committee appointed of such appointment, with a list of the members of the committee.

He shall send an invitation in the name of the Society to the subscribers and invited guests for the annual dinner.

He shall lay before the chair at each meeting a written order of business, with the names of the committees who should report, and a statement of the unfinished business, if any. He shall keep a correct roll of all active and honorary members, and all reports, letters, and other papers of the Society shall be properly filed and preserved by him.

SECTION 5. The Chaplain shall open each meeting, at which he is present, with prayer and shall invoke the blessing of God at each annual meeting, and shall render such spiritual advice and consolation to the sick and suffering objects of the Society's bounty, referred to him by the Assistants, as he may deem proper in the circumstances of the case, and shall, if requested by an officer so to do, perform proper funeral services for persons buried under the care of the Society. He shall be excused from the payment of any dues.

SECTION 6. The Counsellors, who shall be men learned in the law, shall give the Society such legal advice as may be required from time to time without charge.

SECTION 7. The Physicians, who shall be regular graduates of a respectable Medical College, shall under the direction of the Assistants, render proper medical attendance to the sick and suffering under the Society's care, without charge.

SECTION 8. The Assistants, whose number shall be designated at each annual election, shall have charge and oversight of all the sick and suffering poor who may apply for the benefit of the charity funds of the Society.

The Assistants shall have liberty to expend in each month, from May to October inclusive the sum of Fifty Dollars, and in each month from November to April inclusive, the sum of One Hundred Dollars, and any amount unexpended in any month may be expended by them any time subsequently.

Relief shall only be extended to the objects named in Article IV of these By-Laws, and care and discrimination shall be used to prevent any unworthy person from becoming a recipient of the Society's bounty.

It shall be the duty of the Assistants to keep a book wherein shall be entered in alphabetical order applications for relief, amount given (if any), the date of giving, and every other particular which may be deemed useful to the Society. The Acting Assistant shall further have power to call for the professional services of the Society's physicians or counsellors, and to provide for all burials in the Society's lot.

SECTION 9. If either the President, Vice-Presidents, the Secretary or Treasurer be absent from any stated meeting of the Society he shall pay to the Supper Fund a fine of $1.00 ; unless excused on good cause by a vote of two-thirds of the members present at the next meeting.

ARTICLE II

OF MEMBERS

SECTION 1. The name of every proposed member shall be handed in by a member of the Society in writing at a stated meeting of the Society, with his address, a statement of the business in which he is engaged, and whether he was born in Scotland or is descended from Scottish ancestors.

This statement shall be signed by the member proposing, and shall be read aloud by the Secretary at the close of the meeting immediately before adjournment. The proposals shall then lie over for action at the next stated meeting.

There shall be appointed at each annual election a Committee of five members who shall constitute an Elective Committee, to whom all propositions for membership shall be submitted, at least thirty days previous to a regular meeting, at which the election shall be held as provided in this Section.

SECTION 2. All elections for members shall be by ballot, and three black balls in the box shall defeat the candidate. If his proposer thinks proper he may request the ballot to be taken again before the transaction of other business; and the same shall be done, but such new ballot shall be final.

SECTION 3. Every new member shall pay an admission fee of $15. All admission fees received subsequently to the adoption of this By-Law shall be invested at interest as part of the permanent funds of the Society; that is to say, one-half thereof to the permanent Charity Fund, and one-half thereof to the Supper Fund. Every member shall pay an annual fee of $5. Admission fees shall be payable upon election; annual fees on St. Andrew's day. Any member may commute his annual fees by the payment of $50 in one sum; and all sums so received shall be invested at interest as part of the permanent funds of the Society. Any member of the Society of at least fifteen years' standing, and who shall have paid full dues for that time may become a life member on the payment of $25 in one sum.

SECTION 4. Any member who shall be found guilty of any breach of the Criminal Laws of the land, or who shall become intoxicated, or use profane, violent, or obscene language at any meeting of the Society, or who shall by his acts or behavior show himself unfit to associate with gentlemen, shall be expelled from the Society.

In order to expel a member notice shall be given in writing, signed by three members, at one stated meeting, that a motion to expel will be made at the next stated meeting, and notice thereof shall be given to the offending member by the Secretary. Such motion when brought up at a subsequent meeting shall require the votes of two-thirds of the members present for adoption. Provided, however, that if the reasons for expulsion be open, notorious, and uncontradicted, any stated meeting may by the unanimous vote of all the members present, except the offending member, dispense with notice and by such vote expel the offender.

Any member whose admission shall be unpaid for one year, or who shall be in arrear for his annual dues for two years, shall cease to be a member of the Society, unless retained upon the roll by an express vote when reported by the Treasurer.

SECTION 5. Honorary members shall be elected in the same manner as prescribed respecting other members.

ARTICLE III

OF MEETINGS

SECTION 1. The hour for all meetings, stated, adjourned, and special, shall be eight o'clock in the evening, unless specifically ordered otherwise in the case of a special meeting, and except also on St. Andrew's day, when the Dinner Committee shall fix the hour. Twelve members shall constitute a quorum, but a less number may adjourn over to another time.

SECTION 2. At all stated meetings the order of business shall be as follows :

1. Reading and amendment and approval of the minutes.
2. Reports of Committees in the order of their appointment and action thereon.
3. Treasurer's Report and action thereon.
4. Unfinished business.
5. Election of members.
6. Election of officers.
7. New business.
8. Reading the names of candidates for membership, and adjournment.

At an adjourned meeting the business shall be commenced where the same was left off at the time of the adjournment of the previous meeting. At a special meeting no business shall be transacted other than that for which the meeting was called.

At any stated or adjourned meeting the order of business may be changed or suspended by a vote of three-fourths of those present.

SECTION 3. After the adjournment of every quarterly meeting the members present shall be entitled to partake of such collation as the income from the Supper Fund may justify.

ARTICLE IV

RELIEF

Relief shall be given by the Assistants as prescribed in Section 8 of Article I of these By-Laws. The only persons to whom it shall be given shall be destitute persons born in Scotland, their widows and minor children. No person habitually using intoxicating liquor to excess shall ever receive any relief.

ARTICLE V

OF EMOLUMENTS

No officer shall receive any emolument whatever from the Society except the Treasurer, who shall be allowed ten per centum upon all annual dues collected, dues paid at the annual dinner always excepted.

ARTICLE VI

OF AMENDMENTS

All amendments or alterations of these By-Laws must first be proposed in writing at one stated meeting, and then laid over for action at the next stated meeting, and shall then require the votes of three-fourths of the members present for adoption; and in the notices issued for such next stated meeting the substance of such amendment or alteration shall be set forth.
